

People are people.

That's why there shouldn't be racism.

People are people.

That's why there is racism.

Everybody knows that racism is wrong. So why does it still exist? Why can't we fix it? Maybe the problem is too big. Maybe human solutions are too small. Maybe we need superhuman solutions, like changed hearts.

To learn about Dr. Martin Luther King's solution to to overcome racial division, see the feature article "Let's Give the Dream New Life" at EveryStudent.com.

Photo used by permission. License granted by Intellectual Properties Management, Atlanta, Georgia, as manager of the King Estate.

EveryStudent.com