

Sojourner Truth

Harriet Tubman

Frederick Douglass

Martin Luther King Jr.

James Weldon Johnson

If you think Jesus is for African Americans, you're in good company.

Many today question whether African Americans should be followers of Jesus. They view Christianity as merely "a white man's religion" and consider Jesus a foreign deity forced upon our ancestors.

The truth is that Africans were followers of Jesus centuries before our people arrived in this country. And in America, many of our greatest leaders were ardent followers of Jesus. Their faith in him and in his truths propelled them to respond courageously to the problems of our people.

Have you received false information about Jesus? Is it worth knowing the truth? Learn about the many African Americans who have followed Jesus, and the many false myths aimed at us. See the feature article "The Truth About Jesus" on the Web at www.EveryStudent.com.

EveryStudent.com
www.ImpactMovement.com